

Teacher Training Courses and Workshops

The Language Training Co

General Information

Description

We offer a range of teacher training courses and workshops with a practical approach that allows trainees to put theory into classroom practice straightaway.

Teacher Development Programme

We also offer tailored Teacher Development Program that can be delivered in the format of an inset day or as a professional development program over the course of the academic year. Our partner schools and universities can build their own teacher training program by choosing a series of courses and workshops from our portfolio or hire our academic consultancy services to help them decide what best suits their institutional needs.

Course Delivery

Courses can be delivered at our school in Bournemouth, at an external location or online. We also deliver hybrid courses which combine online and face-to-face teacher training.

Course Materials

Course Materials are sourced, adapted and created by our teacher trainers. They are included in our course fees and will be shared with trainees 24 hours before their session takes place.

- Courses at United World School of English, Bournemouth

Research and self-study materials will be made available via our e-learning platform. In-class materials will be printed and handed out by our trainers on day 1.

- Courses at External Locations

Research and self-study materials will be made available via our e-learning platform. In-class materials will be shared via a link. Schools are responsible for printing them out and making them available to trainees from day 1.

- Synchronous Online Courses

Research and self-study materials will be made available via our e-learning platform. In-class materials will be printed and handed out by our trainers on day 1. In-class materials will be made available on a Google Classroom for trainees.

- Asynchronous Online Courses

Research and self-study materials will be made available via our e-learning platform.
